

THIS MONTH'S HOTELS: ISLAND RETREATS

ESCAPE the crowds and ENJOY some private-island INDULGENCE

PETER ISLAND

PETER ISLAND, BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

If you thought holidaying on a private Caribbean island was purely for Premier League footballers and Russian oligarchs, think again. Yes, the entire island costs £160,000 per week to rent, but book into an Ocean View Room and you can enjoy the white sand, warm Caribbean sea and local rum from as little as £225 per person per night. itcclassics.co.uk.

BURGH ISLAND HOTEL

BURGH ISLAND HOTEL, DEVON ←

With Gatsby fever still going strong, this decadent Devon hotel set on its own tidal island is the perfect place to indulge all your deco fantasies. Dress up for dinner (strictly black tie), watch the sunset, cocktail in hand, and fall asleep dreaming of visitors past (think Agatha Christie and Noël Coward). Rooms from £310 including dinner; burghisland.com.

PETER ISLAND

SONG SAA

SONG SAA PRIVATE ISLAND, CAMBODIA

Often described as “like Thailand was 20 years ago”, Cambodia is perfect for Eastern escapism minus the tourists. Song Saa’s 27 luxury villas make the most of their stunning surroundings, with some set on stilts over the sea, others nestled on the hillside or overlooking the beach. From about £426 per person per night; songsaa.com.

LIGHTHOUSE GREBENI, CROATIA ↓

This lighthouse stands alone on the Grebeni reef, separated from the hustle and bustle of Dubrovnik by a half-mile stretch of the Adriatic Sea. Embrace your wild side with some intrepid diving, or make the most of the lighthouse’s partnership with the luxe Dubrovnik Palace Hotel by hiring a chef and a butler. From about £385 per night, visit alh.hr.

LIGHTHOUSE GREBENI

WORDS BY JESSICA TIBBITTS