

EN Japanese Brasserie:

Good Japanese restaurants are few and far between so imagine the delight when I discovered this West Village gem. Serving up everything from fresh, delicate sashimi to tofu packed full of flavour and tender slivers of wagyu steak, every mouthful is a delight. EN Japanese Brasserie, 435 Hudson Street, NY 10014

The Dutch:

Located in a prime SoHo shopping spot, stop off at The Dutch for a mid-morning caffeine hit to keep energy up for pavement pounding. The service is upbeat and friendly, and the oyster sliders are divine. The Dutch, 131 Sullivan Street, NY 10012
